

devolo extending its warranty: 12 months exclusive service for selected products

Aachen, Germany, 15th April 2021 – devolo attaches as much importance to customer satisfaction as to data transfer speeds. Customers can, therefore, enjoy a 12-month extension to the warranty for selected products from the network specialists.

The topics of this press release:

- 12-month warranty extension
- Easy online registration

12-month warranty extension

devolo is extending its service programme and enabling purchasers to extend the warranty for selected products. Customers only have to register their devolo product on the official website. Registration of the product automatically extends the existing warranty by a further twelve months, including additional advantages. In addition to advance information regarding software updates and product innovations, these advantages also include fast individual support.

The warranty extension is available for the following product series from devolo:

- devolo Magic series
- devolo dLAN 1200 series
- devolo WiFi Repeater+ ac
- devolo Mesh WiFi 2

Easy online registration

Registering a product is as easy as installation of the devices themselves. Users can find a dedicated landing page on the official website at

<https://www.devolo.co.uk/product-registration>

The products can be registered here within just a few minutes by entering the MT and serial numbers which are found on the back of the devices. Once the products have been successfully registered, the individual warranty certificate will be sent by e-mail and the extended services are available right away.

Press contact

devolo AG
Marcel Schüll
Charlottenburger Allee 67
52068 Aachen, Germany
Phone: +49 (0)241 18279-514
marcel.schuell@devolo.de

This text and current product images can also be found at www.devolo.co.uk in the media section of the devolo website.

About devolo

devolo provides for smart networking and inspires household customers as well as companies to utilise the options of our digital world. Tried-and-tested home networking solutions from devolo are bringing high-speed Internet and perfect mesh Wi-Fi into every corner of houses and flats by the millions – very easily over the mains supply network. In the professional sector, devolo is helping the vision of the comprehensively networked Internet of Things become reality. Whether in industrial projects or in the evolving energy industry – wherever highly secure, high-performance data communication is in demand, partners rely on devolo. The company was founded in 2002 and is represented by its own subsidiaries and by partners in 19 countries.